

STEEL & SLABS

A HAND-IN-GLOVE FIT

Steel structures with hollow-core floors and walls are a hand-in-glove fit. Not only will the building be aesthetically pleasing, steel fabrication accuracy is ideal for purpose-made products like Echo's floors and walls. The speed of construction benefits the developer in the following ways . . .

Speedy construction means early occupation of your building.

Early occupation means there are financial benefits such as accelerated return on investment.

Versatility: the slab panels can be used as walls to store valuable &/or flammable products.
